

STANDARD OIL BUYS
SITE IN BALTIMORESecond Largest Refinery in the World to Be Built on 28-Acre Tract.BALTIMORE, Oct. 28.—Foreshadowing a plant expansion that will result in the expenditure, it is said, of from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000 in the near future, the Standard Oil Company yesterday took title to a 28-acre tract adjoining its present plant in Canton. The transfer was madefrom the Canton Company for a consideration, as indicated by the stamps, of about $310,000.
While no statement of the future plans of the company was forthcoming, it is reported the plant will be the second largest oil refinery in the world, with a capacity of 26,000 barrels daily. The plant will be second only to that of the company at Bayonne, N. J., which, it is said, has a capacity of 50,000 barrels daily. The Canton plant had a capacity of about 6,000 barrels daily before the recent construction was begun.
At the plant yesterday it was said six storage tanks with a total capacity of 450,000 barrels would be constructed on the new site.Looking for a home, room, or an face and was held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.Miss Crump, the maid of honor, wore a becoming gown of orchid satin draped in pink orchid georgette and embroidered in iridescent beads.

The skirt was arranged bouffant on the hips and trimmed. Touches of pink flowers were used on the bodice and at the waist. She wore a large picture hat of orchid taffeta and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses with a shower of Sweetheart roses.
The bridesmaids frocks were fashioned alike in different colors. Two in Nile green and two in salmon taffeta. They were made old-fashioned with basque, and tiny net sleeves dropping off the shoulders with straps of the taffeta across the shoulders.
The skirts were made with panels of the side, which were attached just below the waist with tiny wreaths of roses tucked in the frill to give the effects of hoops and were caught in at the bottom in a harem affect.
They wore hats like the maids-of-honor, made of taffeta to match their gowns and trimmed in silver ribbon.
They carried bouquets of sunset roses.The church was decorated in white chrysanthemum and amilax and white ribbons were used to mark the pews reserved for the family and close friends.

Miss Nellie Moran, an aunt of the bride, sang "O Promise Me," preceding the ceremony.Mr. Ornelas and his bride will make their future home in Mexico, where he has important mining interest. Mr.

Ornelas is a graduate of Cornell University and the Colorado School of Mines.Miss Lota Robinson is now in New York, but expects to come to Washington and take an apartment for the winter.Sir John Henry had a dinner last night in the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, New York, for Lord and Lady Anglesy and Lord Victor Paget, who will sail for England today on board the Mauretania. Sir John was recently a guest at the British embassy.Mr. and Mrs. Matland Dwight, who have recently been living in Washington, have purchased a house in New York, which they will occupy this winter.Miss Ruth Gretchen Brandenburg, of Danville, Ill., were married last night in the Washington Heights Presbyterian Church, in the presence of a large company of friends and relatives. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. John C. Palmer, pastor of the church, and was followed by a reception for the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C.
Brandenburg, in Calvert street.The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a wedding gown of ivory satin. It was made on simple lines in long waisted effect and was trimmed in pearls and rare chintilly lace that had been in the family for a number of years.
The lace was used on the bodice and to form the cap of the tulle veil which was arranged coronet fashion with a wee cluster of orange blossoms in the front. The veil hung to the bottom of the long court train of satin. Her bouquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley, with a shower of brides' roses.Miss Dorothy Brandenburg, who was her sister's maid of honor, wore a becoming taffeta gown of a beautiful shade of pink, embroidered in silver, and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium.The four bridesmaids wore frocks made alike in different shades of georgette, over metal cloth of the same shade, and trimmed in silver lace. They carried arm bouquets of pink roses and blue delphinium. Miss Ethel Wolfe was in orchid. Miss Eleanor Richards in watermelon pink. Miss Mary Nevill in apricot, and Miss Marie Sweeney in turquoise blue.Millison F. Brandenburg, brother of the bride, was best man and the usher was Dr. Alfred L. Bou, of Porto Rico. Dr. J. Franklin Little, Robert Burkin, and Hermann Schulties, all of this city.The church was appropriately decorated in autumn foliage, palms and chrysanthemums marked the pews reserved for the family. The house was decorated with palms, ferns and autumn flowers and in the living room, where the bride and bridegroom received the guests, a
